

INTRODUCING...THE FLEX PACK!

The Springfield Cardinals are pleased to announce another ticket option for the upcoming 2009 season, with the introduction of the Flex Pack.

Flex Packs will consist of 20 undated General Admission Vouchers and will cost just $99, a savings of $21 over the walk-up price. Perks of the Flex Packs include being able to use them for any home game at Hammons Field during the 2009 season, as well as the ability for fans to upgrade from General Admission to any other seating location (based on availability), for as little as $3 per ticket.

“Entertainment dollars are important to our fans and these Flex Packs have been designed for families on the go and are great for businesses too”, said Vice President / General Manager Matt Gifford. “We hope that these Flex Packs will offer flexibility to our fans, providing them a chance to escape to Cardinals Baseball this summer.”

Flex Packs, 10-Game Championship Packs and Season Tickets are now on sale by calling (417) 863-0395 or by stopping by the Main Office at Hammons Field. For more information, visit www.springfieldcardinals.com.

Don't forget that the Springfield Cardinals open the 2009 Texas League Season at home versus the Frisco RoughRiders, on Thursday, April 9th at 7:10pm. Individual game tickets will go on sale on Wednesday, March 11th at 9am. We hope to see you at Hammons Field very soon. Escape to Cardinals Baseball!
